

Renfue, This Moment

Sometimes I believe you're in the next room
(New Years in a new place)
Do you feel the air outside of the car
Flowing through your veins, oh my God
Here comes the light fast down the road
There's music in the air
Soundtrack to the end
My pulse is racing and our hearts are breaking
Take away, take away everything I love
She was, she was so delicately standing
You were the better part you see
Your life was beautiful and deep
As she walked the mile to His home
I'll be praying for an answer, from His hands of grace
I can hear your voice fading in my ears
I will never ever forget the sweetness of your face
My pulse is racing and our hearts are breaking
Take away, take away everything I love
She was, she was so delicately standing
You were the better part you see
Your life was beautiful and deep
(Take away your fear of life, take away your fear)
I don't believe in anything
All you love will leave
Everything you love and everything you will see
(Sometimes I believe you're in the next room)
