

Reveille, Down To None

Welcome to my revelation,
Reanimation,
My anthem of regret,
Two steps from my evisceration,
My destination,
Where the rain meets the dust,
And the only separation from my pain is my trimulus,
And plus my self-distrust,
Disgust,
I must confess,
That when I rush I bust,
No rest,
Cause everything's a test,
We're bringing jsut enough stress,
To keep this microphone in check,
And if you read between my lie,
I'll take you step by step by step,
Protect yourself,
It's day to day for life,
2001 nails driven into Jesus Christ,
Too many sleepless nights,
I feel my head go numb,
A tangled web brought a spider,
But it's counting me down to none.

Never say never,
Never lie,
Never cry wolf,
Fuck it to infinity,
Now run it through a toll booth,
Cold truth,
All work and no play,
Make you sick spittin' psycho-dellic hits,
All up in my trip,
Now I gotta get a grip between the cracks we slide,
They've been tainting the view with holy matricide,
I run the override,
So back up on the track,
Acquisition ammunition,
Demolition of the facts,
Hypochondriac,
Prepare to end your pain,
Now take a look inside and ride the nowhere train,
come drain my rain away,
Insane today,
Behold oblivion,
Cause I was born with a thousands dreams,
And I'm down to none.
