

Reverend Horton Heat, Rockin' Dog

Well I me my little chicken
At the bar and grill,
She said "hey, dad
You really give me a thrill."

I really love the way
You sing that song
Hey there cat
Can we go whole hog.

I said "Wait a minute kitty,
I'm no cat,
Well I'm a dog!"

So I took the little kitten out for a date,
Boy, she's something special and life was great,
Until I got her home and walked through her door,
She started looking at me like she was a bit bored,
Her eyes started buggin' just like a frog.

She said "Wait a minute daddy
I don't kiss dogs."
A rockin' dog!
A rockin' dog!

She said wait a minute daddy,
You're no cat
Well, you're a dog.

And now I call my little kitten
Up on the phone
Another man answers
Saying she's not at home.

She never let's me in,
When I come a knockin';
She's always goin' out
With some double-talkin' Jock.

I've got to stop sittin';
Like a bump on a log,
I've got a reputation as a
a rockin' dog.

I've got to stop sittin';
Like a bump on a log,
I've got a reputation as a
a rockin' dog.

I've got to stop sittin';
Like a bump on a log,
I've got a reputation as a
a rockin' dog.
