

Rez Band, Attention

Out on the edge of the universe, where no mortals dare to go; there, from above the crimson cloud
His eyes are blazing flames of fire; his voice, a thundering roar,
The nations shudder at the sound; they beg to hear no more.

Attention - stand on your feet,
Attention - listen to me,
Attention - stand on your feet,
Attention - listen to me.

A trillion stars and planets were born at his command,
The keys to life and judgement are held within his hand,
The demons cringe and tremble; they fear to hear his name,
The rise and fall of kingdoms is left within his wake.

Attention - stand on your feet, c'mon,
Attention - listen to me,
Attention - stand on your feet,
Attention - listen to me.

Lightning flashes 'round his hand; veil is torn in two,
Nothing can resist his power, even death is doomed,
And yet he stoops to shelter those who call his name,
And that is why he suffered, and that is why he came.

Attention - stand on your feet,
Attention - now listen to me,
Attention - stand on your feet,
Attention - you can be free.
