

Rez Band, Colours

Oh, oh.

In the dead of night, like the lightning bright, you'll come,
Oh, in the eyes of my heart, where you silenced the dark, I know you'll come,
You'll come,
As the planets dance around the sun, I'll rejoice in the risen one,
You are the Lord, the love of my life,
I wait for you in the morning light.

Silence stands with open hands, hushed before the king,
Joy believes, and happily praises as she sings,
Wonder sits in open fields, beholding all you've made,
Desire seeks your colours, each and every shade.

Whatever one could ask of faith, obedience will give,
Together, all express the love in hearts where Jesus lives,
Whatever one could ask of faith, obedience will give,
Together, all express the love in hearts where Jesus lives.
