

Rez Band, Introduction/Waves

"We wanna welcome you tonight. For us this is a very special occasion: not just a normal Rez

We see wave after wave of people in the street
Playing their songs, but missing the beat
People, oh people, why can't you understand?
Fools with no disguises and love so close at hand

When will you begin to receive the love of God?
Jesus wants to touch you, enfold you with his love
Look into your life and tell me, what do you see?
Don't you realize what he offers is for free?

Look out.

Oh, I know that there's a heaven and soon I'll be there
No lying, no crying, no dying, no fear
If you wanna join us, you can come along
With his blood he bought you, and to him you'll belong

Come along, yeah!

We see wave after wave of sailors every day
Drowning in the surf of their sorrow
We're reaching out to you, pointing to the way
He'll give you a better tomorrow
And, to those of our friends who know the king is your king
Keep shining 'til we meet again
Shining 'til we meet again
