

Rez Band, Surprised

I done my time, I took my ride.

Strutted my stuff, did it my way,
Hid myself from the light of day,
Pushed, shoved, tripped and fell,
But dead men got no tales to tell.

Everything I've come to know points me to my need for you,
Everything I've come to know points me to my need for you.

I've known the pain, I felt the shame.

Voices talking soft and loud,
Too far down to be so proud,
Some said something 'bout ears to hear,
Faith in truth becoming clear.

Everything I've come to know points me to my need for you,
Everything I've come to know points me to my need for you.

I've been surprised, opened my eyes.

Sky came down in tears of rain,
Sun came up a whole new way,
God knows what, when and why,
Think I wasn't born to die.

Everything I've come to know points me to the fact of you,
I don't know all that I need, but I think I finally see.

I've never been so surprised.

Been so surprised,
Here I'm alive,
So, so surprised,
I'm alive.

Been so surprised,
Feel alive,
I've been so...
