

Rhapsody, Eternal Glory

Echoes of terror in this old land
I see the result of their quest Skulls of old heroes lie everywhere in this mystical place Dust in their eyes, dust on my pride in this infinite journey to the ancient sword

I can hear their lament between these rocks the whisper of an angry ghost he speaks for them all trapped in this lost world I am their very last hope to ride from hell free once again to break the chains from a bloody past for my victory

Eternal glory ride fast to me
pound in my heart for the Algalord kings Eternal glory spread your wide wings fly and forever lead my holy steel

I'll fight, I'll cry for your silence your name You'll live through me I will end all your pain for the swan in the lake the bird on the tree the peace for my beloved lands
The black king is near and Algalord calls so heroes of the lost valley raise all your voice

Eternal glory ride fast to me
pound in my heart for the Algalord kings
Eternal glory spread your wide wings

</lyrics>
I can hear the war cry over the hills While dragons fill the sun Rage in the wind at the touch of steel Blindness in their evil eyes

Another war another fight to defend my kingdom
From the evil lords

Eternal Glory you are my aim
Ride in my heart again, angel of revenge

Time ago many swords felt on holy snow Testifying neverending fights Against the evil these have been fought I'll do the same for my realm

Lord of the light don't call me now I want be fierce for what I've done Riding the sky

Eternal Glory you are my aim
Ride in my heart again, angel of revenge

Another war another fight to defend my kingdom
From the evil lords

Eternal Glory you are my aim
Ride in my heart again, angel of revenge
