

Rhonda Vincent, Pretending I Don't Care

My days are so lonely my nights are so blue
Though my heart is broken it belongs to you
Of misery and sorrow well I've had my share
Like you I'm pretending that I don't care

You pretend to be happy gay and carefree
But I know that sometimes you still think of me
Just bein without you is so hard to bear
Like you I'm pretending that I don't care

I pray for the power to forget and forgive
That you ever hurt me the way that you did
Oh I shouldn't want you but the feelin's still there
Like you I'm pretending that I don't care
