

Richard John Thompson, Cry

Half the time I don't know what to think
Tears creep right down to my feet
And I pray I feel OK for you tomorrow

The love you give me helps me grow
Is it hard to count the love I owe?
I pray I feel OK for you tomorrow

You don't have to send a search
To come and bring me home
Are you waiting up girl? I won't be long

But for now, can you feel my heart?
Now, do I still make you smile?
Now, can you feel my heart?
Or do, do I make you cry?

All my love I start to doubt
From my heart I feel locked out
I pray I feel the way you feel for me

Stay there girl I'm not running away
Things ain't changed since yesterday
I pray I feel the same for you again

You won't have to try at all
To come and win me back
Once I got these troubles off my back

For now, can you feel my heart?
Now, do I still make you smile?
Now, can you feel my heart?
Or do, do I make you cry?

I miss you baby oh
Oh, I miss you baby oh
I'll be coming home
I'll be coming home
I'll be coming home

I don't need no guiding star
To help me on my way
Hoping there's a chance for us again

Now, can you feel my heart?
Now, do I still make you smile?
Now, can you feel my heart?
I'm sorry if I make you cry
