

Richie Aufrichtig, February

And I notice that you're gone
You who so sweetly proves me wrong
I asked you, "please just stay with me"
And then you leave

Sign like I expect you to sign
Another pointless memory
Waiting around to hear from me
It's not like I expect you to sing
Well, I'd ask you how your summer was
But it's February now
Somehow
It's February

I watch your molecules breath
And I'm just happy to see
The way the air moves with the breeze
I freeze and you say, "please just don't go away from me"
I'm tired of the way you
Nod your head as I speak
I'm always right and you're just wrong for me

Sign like I expect you to sign
Another pointless memory
Waiting around to hear from me
It's not like I expect you to sing (?)
Well, I'd ask you how your summer was
But it's February now
Somehow
It's February

Just bleed into the night
Just to watch me
Bleed into the night
Just watch me
Bleed
Watch me bleed

Sign like I expect you to sign
Another pointless memory
Waiting around to hear from me
It's not like I expect you to sing (?)
Well, I'd ask you how your summer was
But it's February, February now
