

Rick Springfield, It's About Time

Do you remember the first time
You got to feeling this way
Do you remember the first time
That you felt the way you feel today

You ought to know if you love her completely
You ought to know if you want her back
If you don't have a love that's complete now
It's about time you had
It's about time

Time ,time , time, time

When you can tell by her heartbeat
She wants to love you all night
But can you read all the love signs
You know when she feels it's alright

You ought to know if you love her completely
You ought to know if you want her back
If you don't have a love that's complete now
It's about time you had
It's about time

Do you remember the first time
You got to feeling this way
Do you remember the first time that you felt
The way you felt today

You ought to know if you love her completely
You ought to know if you want her back
If you don't have a love that's complete now
It's about time you had
It's about time
