

Ricky Martin, Happy Birthday

Yesterday was just like any other day
I can't believe we're gonna change in just one day
We are just the victims of the seeds we sow
Better say no more
The word has broken again
When the rain touches the ground
All the drops speak in beautiful sounds
Yesterday was just the most simple of the days
I found the only way that leads me to that place
Everybody knows how difficult it is
Better say no more
And listen to the rain
When the rain touches the ground
All the shiny drops like tears make beautiful sounds
It's gonna get high
Yes so high
It's getting around me
When the rain touches the ground
All the shiny drops like tears make beautiful sounds
I feel the rain it keeps on falling on my face
I found the only way that leads me to that place
