

Ride, 1000 Miles

This night these memories lost and found
Are taking over me
I could see your picture and hear the sound
Of the song you sung to me

You gotta feel and take every chance
You did the right thing
Drove a thousand miles away
Out of trace and in another time
You did the wrong thing
And bought it back in your mind
Why's life so unkind?

For always and ever it's getting better
I feel your steps with mine
I'm moving on like it said in the letter
Another place, another time

Blown away
Got blown away, a thousand miles away
