

Ride, Peace Sign

Shine, shining, the thought in your mind
As you're racing away from the light
Tonight, the feeling inside
Is a tension that's outside of time
As you climb, the face of the rock
Has a feeling that's winding you tight
It's alright, your instincts are always right

Give me a peace sign
Throw your hands in the air
Give me a peace sign
Let me know you're there

Think I'm ready, yes I'm ready,
This is the window and I'm not waiting
I'm not waiting, with no direction,
I'm all ready for satiation
No returning, no way home
And I think I might lose my phone and
In the moment, now I feel, and finally I'm real
