

Rie Fu, 5 Minutes

Five minutes to wash my face and
Five minutes to wear my make up
Maybe Ill run out of time today
Five minutes to find my shoes and
Five minutes to run out the door
Maybe Ill run out of time today

And I dont want to think cause I want to be real,
Those things in my head are never real
I dont want to think cause I want to be real
Tell me to wake up, to wake up, to wake up to you
Its not something you want to say, its not something you want to see
Its not something you want to do
So give me some clue

Five minutes to drink the milk and Five minutes to spit it out
maybe Ill run out of time today
Five minutes to find your number
Five minutes to make the call
maybe Ill run out of time today

And I dont want to think cause I want to be real,
Those things in my head are never real
I dont want to think cause I want to be real
Tell me to wake up, to wake up, to wake up to you
Its not something you want to say, its not something you want to see
Its not something you want to do
So give me some clue

Five minutes to find my shoes and
Five minutes to run out the door
Maybe Ill run out of time today
Five minutes to my destination
Five minutes Im on my way
Maybe Ill run out of time today

And I dont want to think cause I want to be real,
Those things in my head are never real
I dont want to think cause I want to be real
Tell me to wake up, to wake up, to wake up to you
Its not something you want to say, its not something you want to see
Then its got to be somewhere you really want to go Anywhere, just let me know

Five minutes

Make the call, find your number, wash the dishes
Take out the garbage, make your wishes
Want to be real
