

Rilo Kiley, August

august
i'll see you soon under yellow moons where i'll gather what's left of you and august
i'm on your side or did i speak to soon? now we've crossed the great divide someday we'll meet beyond the stars and it'll be away from here somebody we'll meet beyond the time and the bars and it will be away from here
august
august of last year before the leaves disappeared told me you were not the one
august
something in your eyes or was it that you lied? told me not to take it to heart
someday we'll meet beyond the stars
someday we'll meet beyond the limits of who we are
and it will be away from here
and it'll be away from here someday we'll meet beyond the land that you call miles away away from here
