

Ring Of Fire, Dreamtower

(Lyrics and Melodies by Mark Boals / Music by Tony MacAlpine)
(2002 Boalsongs BMI / Eyes on the Prize BMI)

Deep in the night you awaken
To a feeling so alone
Don't know which path you have taken
Your surroundings so unknown

Are you still sleeping
This can't be reality
Your bed is floating on clouds on the open sea

Now, finally
You can see
That you are

Dreaming inside a dreamtower
The dream within a dream
Dreaming inside a dreamtower
Nothing is what it seems

How many doors must you open
Til you find the (one) to escape
All your words remain unspoken
Memories have been erased

Are you still sleeping
This can't be reality
All (movements) frozen
Now you have been chosen

To be
Finally
In the place that you are

Dreaming inside a dreamtower
The dream within a dream
Dreaming inside a dreamtower
Nothing is what it seems

Suddenly elucidated
And your dreams have all gone away
Everything so complicated
It's so hard to ascertain

Are you still sleeping
This can't be reality
Look out your windowpane
Now you are floating in space

Once again
You can see that you are

Dreaming inside a dreamtower
The dream within a dream
Dreaming inside a dreamtower
Nothing is what it seems
(No!)

Dreaming inside a dreamtower
The dream within a dream
Dreaming inside a dreamtower
Nothing is what it seems

(Dreaming that dream within a dream in Dreamtower
