

Road Trip's Over, Burning City Lights

what is going on tonight?
I wish I could go out tonight and not to feel like I'm wasting the best part of my life call my friends and take the car leave a short message and go so far do not care and forget about tomorrow I'll follow you tonight into burning city lights we can stop the time
now and forever
Don't be scared to take your part we all want to take this ride
we can stop the time
All what's left for me to say Try to do the best you can never cave in even though it seems to be so wrong we all want to feel alive no one will stop us tonight try to look and then you'll find we can stop the bloody time! we're not afraid anymore
