Robert Cray, Laugh Out Loud

I can look back now at all the years I paid my dues Every broken heart, every dead end All those blues

It don't matter now
The tears I've waded through (?)
I can laugh out loud
I ended up with you

I can laugh out loud I ended up with you

I can laugh out loud At all the times I failed the test Lost someone And came out second best

I can see now
I had to learn a thing or two
I was practicing then
To get it right for you

Ohh, I can laugh out loud

Life and love Ain't it a mystery

This road I've struggled down Has thrown some curves at me

Who would have guessed The grand-prize would be mine?

This late in the game This far down the line?

I can look back now at all the years I paid my dues Every broken heart, every dead-end All those blues

It don't matter now The tears I've waded through

Ohh, I can laugh out loud I ended up with you

I can laugh out loud I ended up with you

Ohh, I can laugh out loud I ended up with you

I can laugh out loud I ended up with you