Robert Earl Keen, Jr., Stewball

There's a big race down in Dallas Don't you wish that you were there? You could bet your bottom dollar On that iron gray mare

Had a black horse named Delilah And I raised her on the farm There was thunder, there was lightning On the day Stewball was born

Chorus:

Won't you bet on Stewball, she might win win win Bet on Stewball she might win Bet on Stewball, she might win win win Bet on Stewball she might win

So I sold off my possessions And I headed for the town I brought Stewball here to Dallas And I laid my money down

Won't you bet on Stewball, she might win win win Bet on Stewball she might win Won't you bet on Stewball, she might win win win Bet on Stewball she might win

All the children are a-laughin' And the women, they a-cryin' All the menfolk are a-hollerin' Old Stewball, she's a-flyin'

Won't you bet on Stewball, she might win win win Bet on Stewball she might win Won't you bet on Stewball, she might win win win Bet on Stewball she might win

Won't you bet on Stewball, she might win win win Bet on Stewball she might win Won't you bet on Stewball, she might win win win Bet on Stewball she might win
