

Robert Plant, Heart in your hand

Do you gather flowers for me? Moving softly through the trees
With the scent against your arms Long