

Robert Plant, You'd Better Run

What you trying to do to my heart?
What you trying to do to my heart?
Everything I had was yours
Now I'm closing all the doors
What you trying to do to my heart?

[You better run - you better hide]
[You better leave from my side]

What you trying to do to my soul?
What you trying to do to my soul?
Every time I see your face
See you in another place
What you trying to do to my soul?

[You better run - you better hide] Run, baby - run, girl
[You better leave from my side] Leave me now, girl

I love you girl - love you so
Cant you see? Don't you know?
I can't stand your alibis
Telling lies - tell me why
Said I want you back home, yeah

What you trying to do to my head?
What you trying to do to my head?
Every time I see your face
I see you in another place
What you trying to do to my head?

[You better run - you better hide] Yes, girl
[You better leave from my side] Leave me, baby

I've got to keep on walking
Keep on walking
Got to get away from you
'Cause I've got to leave you, girl
