

Robin Trower, Daydream

We were laughing in a daydream With the world beneath our feet and the sun shined on the water Where the skies and the ocean meet

We were spellbound
ohhhh spellbound

we were listning down a rainbow as the leaves fell to the ground whipering as we tumbled And the wind laft at the sound

We were spellbound
ohhh spellbound

we were spellbound
ohhh spellbound

We were children in the garden where the flowers kiss the sky

And the birds sang out and wonder as the day went sailing by

we were spellbound
mmmmm spellbound
ohhh spellbound
mmm spellbound
ohhhh
