

Rockfour, Route 66

Route six six six - end of the line
Come a little closer - soon it starts
Far away calling you from above
"Let the horses run!"

Stop! Stop running there is nowhere to hide
Catch you now I'm not far behind
Hang it up, push it down
Forget the voices in your head
"Let the horses run!"

If it all were going right
Then you would be so far
Lonely riders would show you how
To let the horses run

Have you seen them in your eyes?
Let me introduce you to some friends of mine
If you were wrong they soon will come
Forget the voices in your head
"Let the horses run!"

If it all were going right
Then you would be so far
Lonely riders would show you how
To let the horses run
