

ROCKWELL, Are you ready for my love

Are you the someone i've been looking for?
are you the one who's supposed to make my life seem so much more?
someone to call my own?
and are u the picture i painted on nights when i needed a hand to hold, who knows when to begin and never thinks about an ending i need a lover who's gonna stick around Are you ready for my love?
and turn on the lights and show me what you've got inside are you ready to stand up?
are you ready to be brave and never walk away no matter what can you be wrong, can you be strong
are you ready for my love?
i wanna be right beside you never ahead or behind you, boy I'm not looking for a love that's unsure i don't wanna live my life in yesterday I gotta believe the past is a memory, living today with me that when times are getting tough or go and break my heart
are you ready for my love?
I wont see you fall apart
Are you ready to stand up?
and turn on the lights and show me what you've got inside
are you ready to be brave and never walk away
can you be wrong, can you be strong
no matter what
are you ready for my love?
i'm ready to give myself completly You, only you yes you to you only you
and baby there's more to come..
Are you ready for my love?
and turn on the lights and show me what you've got inside
are you ready to be brave and never walk away
are you ready to stand up?
can you be wrong, can you be strong
no matter what
are you ready for my love?
