

Roddy Woomble, I Came In From The Mountain

My dreams would change over centuries if i had a thousand lives to choose from but we don't change what we don't see because we affect each other endlessly

and i see between your eyes lines of language to be taken along i came from the mountain my fears would change over centuries if i could choose a thousand lives to live from but we can't change what we can't see

i came from the the mountain

oh i came from the mountain
