

Roddy Woomble, If I Could Name Any Name

You know where you are
At the end of the alphabet
When letters run out
And you're left with your name
And you turn and you pace
Just to choose a new age
Til you find one more day that's the same

The phrases that shade me
The moments escape me
When you called me the name I became
In the space between
What we say and what we mean
Until we find one more day that's the same

And time will stop and start again
You're leaving my heart again
Back to a place
Where I chose my own name
Watch time stop and start again
You're leaving my heart again
If I could name any name

You know where you are
At the end of the argument
Surrounded by echoes
That take on the strain
Like the words that fall down
Like the rain on the ground
Until we find one more day that's the same

And time will stop and start again
You're leaving my heart again
Back to a place
Where I choose my own name
Watch time stop and start again
You're leaving my heart again
If I could name any name

It's these moments that made me
And rumors that save me
They taught me the things that I finally became Through the mirror between
What we know and we mean
Til we find one more day that's the same

And time will stop and start again
You're leaving my heart again
Back to a place
Where I chose my own name
Watch time stop and start again
You're leaving my heart again
If I could name any name
If I could name any name
If I could name any name
