

Rodney Carrington, Momma's Got Her Boobs Out

I rember way back when i was just a boy, goin places with my mom and dad, used to scare me to death the way momma used to act after six or seven beers she;s had.
we were sittin round a table when momma got disabled all the liquor runnin to her head, well i got to chokin daddy wasn't jokin when he grabbed me by the arm and said

"CHORUS"
don't look now momma's got her boobs out showing everybody in town, our faces gettin red we were wishin we were dead, there where people standing all around well when momma gets to drinking there ain't much thinkin, there's nothing anybody can do, you just hope and pray there never comes a day when momma's out drinkin with you

"Verse 2"

so we got in the truck we were on our way home when momma said she had to go, daddy pulled it over, we were standing on the shoulder while momma's puttin on a show so we started up the truck and momma stood up with her pants still around her knees, we heard momma hollar if ya give me a dollar well I'll let you take a peek at these.
