

Roger Daltrey, If I Only Had A Heart

"Female singers". Said a tin man, rattling his feelings to a straw man, sad and weary eyed.

"Tin Man". Oh, the smith gave me tin riddancebut, forgot to put a heart inside.

"Female singers". Then he banged his hallow chest and cried!

"Tin Man". When a man's an empty kettle, he should be on his metal and yet I'm torn apart. Just be

"Dorothy". Wherefore art thou, Romeo?

"Tin Man". I hear a beat, how sweet. Just to register emotion, Jealousy, devotion, and really feel th
