

Roger Daltrey, Ready For Love

By Kit Hain

Turning your back on yesterday
See you dance into another man's arms
But I'm not sure if you've emotion left at all
And if by chance you happen to find the right one
Who could give his heart
Will you run him round in circles
Or let yourself fall?
Tell me friend.

Are you ready for love?
Are you ready for love?

I know someone hurt you bad
And now you're wary, lock those fears away
But ain't it time you stopped running away from pain?
Cos if you don't you'll only go and hurt another
Make him leave you too
Then you'll turn around and say
Hey look! I'm the victim again!
Oh tell me friend

Are you ready for love?
Are you ready for love?
Are you ready for love?

And if by chance he happens to be the right one
Who could give his heart
Will to tell him what you're feeling?
Oh ask yourself

Are you ready for love?
Are you ready for love?
Are you ready for love?
