

Roger Miller, You Oughta Be Here With Me

If you think it's lonesome where you are tonight then you oughta be here with me

If you think there's heartaches where you are tonight

Then you oughta be here with me

Because with you I'm whole without you I'm cold

But if you think that it's cold where you are tonight then you oughta be here with me

If teardrops are falling where you are tonight then you oughta be here with me

Loneliness calling where you are tonight then you oughta be here with me

Because with you I'm whole...
