Roisin Murphy, Love In The Making

Theres no forsaking This hearts for breaking All there for the taking And are you waking?

Each man must stand alone Walk alone along a road Of his own making Cant turn your back On your particular ending

Nobody can go with you Nobody to hold onto you

Wont you pick yourself up? Dust yourself down When you reach your Particular gate Well, itll all be over

Itll get worse before
Itll get better
But it will get better
Youve got to look on the Bright side
The same rules apply for me and you
As for anyone ever going through

Theres no forsaking This hearts for breaking All there for the taking Its love in the making

Noon according to the sundial Time has cast a shadow ive yet to discover Whats making me tick

There is liberation in A simple acceptance That there will be no No liberation from, No liberation from, No liberation from, No way to transcend this

Theres no forsaking This hearts for breaking All there for the taking And are you waking?