Roisin Murphy, Tell Everybody

Hey, where'd you learn to fly So you shoot your rocket up Into the sky Hey, I heard you set the pace I never thought Id see you back In this old place

Are you here to stay I never thought Id see the day Maybe in another lifetime I'd see you walking away from me

Tell everybody you're my baby Tell everybody we're not fading Tell everybody no ifs or maybes, no, no, no Tell everybody Im your lady Tell everybody it's not changing Tell everybody you're still my baby, yeah, yeah, yeah

Hey, I heard you set the tone The day you changed the world you were Alone I'm at your command You only have to clap your hands Baby I don't understand Why you're leaving me

Hey, I only wanna make you smile Well, maybe it'll take a while Maybe III build a needing If it pleases you

Tell everybody you're my baby Tell everybody we're not fading Tell everybody no ifs or maybes, no, no, no Tell everybody Im your lady Tell everybody it's not changing Tell everybody you're still my baby, yeah, yeah, yeah

I almost remember your face But it's fading, but it's fading fast Now that I remember the taste
