

Ron Sexsmith, Must've Heard It Wrong

High above it all
These words have lingered on
"I won't let you fall"
Though I must have heard it wrong

Cos I've been lying here
Seems all these broken songs
Have fallen on deaf ears
Oh, I must have heard it wrong

It's time I got used to it
We've all been left behind
But I can't make the pieces fit
Hard as I try

Oh, when will I learn
Believing for so long
As if I had faith to burn
Though I must have heard you wrong

I can't make the pieces fit
Hard as I try

Behind this starry wall
I turned and then walked on
Thought I heard a star fall
Though I must have heard it wrong

Thought I heard a star fall
Though I must have heard it wrong
