

Ron Sexsmith, Parable

Heres the story of a poor loser
From the wrong side of the street
Yes, hes a born loser
Its the world hes trying to beat
And though he once tried to cross over
All he met there was defeat

And its the story of a bid winner
Wholl rub you out and rub it in
Yes, and he wont let you forget it
Hes gonna get right under your skin
I bet you anything he dont come out
The same door he went in

Some people say its no win or lose
But how you play the game
It dont apply when stakes are high
And when these tow are playing

So lets go back now to this poor loser
Hes lying on his bed
Hes gotta big chip on his shoulder
Hes got a light bulb over his head
And he thinks: what if that bad winner
Were to have a little accident