

Ronnie Milsap, Nashville Moon

Music City U.S.A. some dreams broken, some dreams made
Oh, we see it all here, hearts in and out of tune
Another night I don't know where you are but here I am with all the stars
Hanging heartaches out on the Nashville moon.

Hank Williams told my story back in 1952
Somehow he saw the future your love has put me through
This town full of rainbows singing the blues.
And hanging heartaches out on the Nashville moon.

They say there's magic down on Music Row, songs turn gold on the radio
One day you're hungry the next it's silver spoons
This town moves at the speed of light and it all changes overnight
I'm hanging heartaches out on the Nashville moon.

Hank Williams told my story back in 1952
Somehow he saw the future your love has put me through
This town full of rainbows singing the blues
And hanging heartaches out on the Nashville moon.

I'm hanging heartaches out on the Nashville moon...
