

Ronnie Milsap, Stranger Things Have Happened

I keep talking to your picture
But a smile is all you say.
It's a lonely conversation,
But missing you is easier this way.

Last night a shadow filled the doorway,
And I heard footsteps on the stairs.
Then I woke up this morning,
And thought I saw you standing there.

Stranger things have happened,
And I'll always believe,
If stranger things can happen,
You could still come back to me.

One touch is worth a thousand pictures.
What might have been ain't worth a dime.
I just hope someday I'll hold you,
Another place, some other time.

Stranger things have happened,
And I'll always believe,
If stranger things can happen,
You could still come back to me.

If stranger things can happen,
You could still come back to me.

Stranger things have happened...
