

Roo Panes, Big Wide World

I have got the feeling dear
That everywhere i go from here,
I will just be looking for you,
I will just be,
I will just be looking for you.

I look up these small town stars,
And i just think about how bright you are,
cos there was something glowing in you,
There was something,
There was something glowing in you.

Cos I can see inside you there's a laughing sun,
I'd always dreamed of running through that garden.
And you joke that i've been everywhere yet still somehow,
The only view i want to see is you right now

You're a big wide world girl,
You're a big wide world girl,
So come let's see those curtains open, watch that morning light unfurl,
You're a big wide world girl

Well you tell me want simpler lines,
So I just hope that you are doing fine,
And every night I'm thinking of you,
Every night, oh,
Every night I'm thinking of you.

I just want to feel the fire of that laughing sun,
Just want to feel your warmth before the days begun.
Been oh so many places and yet still somehow,
The only view i want to see is you right now

You're a big wide world girl,
You're a big wide world girl,
So come let's see those curtains open, watch that morning light unfurl,
You're a big wide world girl

Just wanna pull your curtains wide,
Just wanna see your morning light,
I don't wanna waste more time.

Just wanna pull your curtains wide,
Just wanna see your morning light,
I don't wanna waste more time.

You're a big wide world girl,
A big wide world girl,
So come let's see those curtains open, watch that morning light unfurl,
You're a big wide world girl
