

Rosicrucian, Esoteric Traditions

You have lived your life in mystery unaware of the unknown
You can still the body, but not the soul of the feeling of not being alone Your own deep mind is pulsing with life but of this you nothing know No time now to regret your choice without salvation you will go The immortal soul takes many bodies acquiring experience and character growth in each Discarding each as it's use is fulfilled and taking new ones until the highest is reached The different viewpoints we all have influence our attitude towards life in different ways To the one, death is the end of all to the other, just the end of a phase The atheist belief the dark pit of life
A pit in which so many dwell Denying the facts so often proved You don't care, you do nothing and you do it well

The right hand path is the one I'll tread.
