

Rosie Thomas, Pretty Dress

Put your pretty dress on it's time for you to go to the dance tie your hair in ribbons and lace and wear pearls round your neck And all the pretty princes will see you All the pretty princes will see you
Some day
Some day
Put your red boots on it's time for you to walk home from school every one will laugh they'll point fingers at you they'll be cruel but cover up your ears and don't listen because you'll know much better than them some day
some day
and they'll wave to you
put your red coat on and walk with a light in the woods if it gets dark dont get scared there's so much waiting for you cover up your tears and dont show them cause you'll know much better than them
cause they don't see you like i see you if they did, they'd see the nice litte girl whose grown up to become homecoming queen
and we'll wave to you
put you pretty dress on
