

Roxette, Entering Your Heart

I came in crawling
with an absent-minded smile
I had so many things un-tied that summer night when I decided it was worth another try entering your heart.. ohh yeah

close your eyes
don't say a word
all your thoughts must go un-heard
and I.....
have failed so many times....
entering your mind....
entering your mind....

I'm not the most important one under the sun
I don't have any power connections to the Pentagon but I've got something of my own, that must get done

entering you heart
ohhh... entering your heart
close your eyes
don't tell a soul....
all you dreams must be told....
and I.....
entering you mind....
entering you mind

ohhh...
ohhh...

I.....
ohhh..... entering you heart
woah.. entering you heart
