

Roy Orbison, You Lay So Easy On My Mind

You lay so easy on my mind oh so easy on my mind
Whenever I need you, all I ever do is close my eyes
You lay so easy on my mind yes, so easy on my mind
Wrap me in your warmth, let me feel your body touching mine

Everything you say and do finds me wanting you
Each moment brings to light a million dreams
Having something real is something I can feel
When I feel you, angel, touching me

You lay so easy on my mind oh so easy on my mind

There's not a part of me your sweet love won't reach to satisfy

Everyday I love you more, you're the one I'm living for
And the best you'll ever give you've given me
You completely satisfy every need inside
I pray you'll never take your love from me

You lay so easy on my mind oh so easy on my mind
There's not a part of me, your sweet love won't reach to satisfy
You lay so easy on my mind
