

Royal Hunt, King for a Day

I see - Your power's growing stronger you can enjoy it longer...
Go take another swing
Your lies might be a great improvement of a silly, pointless movement
That doesn't mean a thing
A dog behind the fence, no pride no common sense - Howling
Regardless any hype - A simple, ruthless kind knowing
That hell be gone overnight

Alright, you had your feelings padded and getting better at it
Well colour me impressed
Your heart is turning meaner colder as you are growing older...
Now - Back in line with the rest
Of you - Some empty shells, the kind of garbage hell's waiting for
No conscious no remorse - It can't get any worse any more

Life is cruel: go on rule... Such a fool You're a king for a day
Time will come, you'll be gone - Everyone, every king for a day
You can run, you can hide... Never mind - You're a king for a day
Here's the end - and it's fair cuz you were just a king for a day

Take closer look around... Life's already wasted
Ask yourself - Do you believe that someone can replace it?
Do you really think it all will go away in a single day,
A single bloody day?

"Why?" What goes round comes around...
Lose your head and lose your crown...
Now you're going down.
