

Rufio, Face The Truth

you take a look around and dont like what you see theres peoples you dont know but you know they care its been so long since you've heard the hurting words "i care for you" and its right this time forget your past and see what is now even if you dont want to you've got to face the truth

theres peoples you dont know
so you wait to say goodbye cause "someday" may come along not thinking of reality you make the most with your lies a broken heart comes crashing down and your stabbed from behind not willing to admit the truth?
just face the truth

why don't you care?

from your stab from behind
not willing to admit the truth?

why don't you care?

you make the most of your lies

why don't you care?
