

Run Level Zero, Yellow Wallpaper

What is one to do when no one takes you by the hand
This nervous condition / shadows play across the wall
In certain lights I can see a different shade
The pattern crawls / the pattern calls

Why must I be the one that has to suffocate
Why must I linger / every moment filled with
Lies, remove the lies / lies, see the lies

Beyond the lies / the truth is written in her face
A formless figure / at the edge of vision
Skulking, hiding / in this solemn, sleepy place
A lurid orange / a sickly sulphur tint

Why must I stay / everything's a mystery
Mental chains / every moment filled with
Lies, remove the lies / lies, see the lies

Behind the pattern the shapes grow clearer every day
It's like a bad dream / she is standing on the road
Shake the bars / shake it hard in the moonlight
Yellow walls / soon I will break out

Unblinking eyes / follow every move I make
She advances / every moment filled with
Lies, see through the lies / lies, see the lies

Everything will be OK / every wall will decay
