Running Wild, Firebreather

[Rolf Kasparek]

Three days of darkness, eternal night Celestial sign swallows up the light A raging storm, Armaggeddon's here The enslaved's hope is the evil's fear

He rides the wind on silent wings, Laserbeams ripping steel Black helicopters go up in flames, before they know that he's real

Firebreather, raging from the stormy sky Firebreather, smoke and thunder steal the light away

Black soldiers walk the gates of hell They drop their mask, they come off their shell Minotaurs and genetic beasts Invade the world with a bloody feast

He rides the wind on silent wings, Laserbeams ripping steel Black helicopters go up in flames, before they know that he's real

Man in black your time is up Universal law, you're outta luck No dirty tricks, no unfair fight He shoots your head off with his first strike

He rides the wind on silent wings, Laserbeams ripping steel Black helicopters go up in flames, before they know that he's real

Firebreather, raging for the stormy sky Firebreather, smoke and thunder steal the light away
