Ruslana and T -Pain, Moon of dreams

I knew it wasn't meant to last We couldn't be the choice of luck And now im looking in the past But it's the present where i start and there is no pain anymore And nothing i can blame you for it's just i'm missing you so much i miss the energy of your love Like A wounded bird in the lonely sky I just can't forget that i use to fly Take me back take me back to the moon of dreams Bring me back bring me back to the moon of dreams Like a Frozen tear on the shaken leaf i am left in here and it cuts so deep Take me back take me back to the moon of dreams Bring me back bring me back to the moon of dreams T-pain: (Moon Of Deams) Take me back take me back to moon of dreams -Bring me back to the moon of dreams I knew where we were going too It was the way we didn't choose We knew what was and wasn't true but still we thought we couldn't lose Well you are not mine anymore but nothing i'm sorry for but i'm still longing you so much I miss the energy of your touch Like A wounded bird in the lonely sky I just can't forget that i use to fly Take me back take me back to the moon of dreams Bring me back bring me back to the moon of dreams Like a Frozen tear on the shaken leaf i am left in here and it cuts so deep Take me back take me back to the moon of dreams Bring me back bring me back to the moon of dreams T-pain: the daytrime the sunlight i will never love again, i tried to work it out some many different ways but We could never be friends And when the sun goes down and i think about you and How we used to be it rises again and i lose a friend and here i am again Waiting on the moon of dreams
