

Ruth, Mr. Turner

There is something inside of us all that's wondering where we're gonna go when all the lights are turned down low lately the news is weighing me down i get confused, what's life all about im ready for some answers now

could i sail across the ocean blue and the sun will guide me through if i go, yes i know, im headin home once upon a time when i was sayin lookin back at all the things i've done i wonder if you were around cause my family breaks with all their hearts that i could change, and im ready to start thinkin it over

and the sun will guide me through

and wouldn't it be nice if you could look twice
and watch the sunset
just one more time
and watch the sunset

and i keep my eyes on you
and the sun will guide me through

if i should die before i wake i'd pray the lord my soul to take
