

Rx Bandits, Andrea

do you remember how you held her?
do you remember how you cried?
do you remember saying never as she slowly dried your eyes?
i remember what i did then and how we always felt inside, happiness surrounds the other,
but every single day i die.

do you remember when our scene was so young and still so alive?
do you remember when i was happy? so happy to arrive
what could you say now all the stars cost so much?
what could you say i fucking lost my sense of touch?

chorus

i know the answer to this question and i know the answer to this rhyme
i know the answer to this riddle
it's andrea everytime

do you remember what she did?
and do you remember what she said?
and i could never tear my heart for me to forgive
what could you say when i just looked you in your eyes?
what could you say because you knew wanted to lie?

chorus

retribution uniting every nation
come on let's join this revolution
retribution uniting every nation
come on and join in!

oh oh oh..

come on!
retribution uniting every nation
come on let's join this revolution
retribution uniting every nation
come on and join in!
